

Four questions became the report structure.

I organized the Power BI experience around what a first-time reader needs to understand, compare and verify.

Question → comparison → takeaway
→ evidence

Six English pages, one visible reading route.

Each analytical page has a distinct purpose.

1

History

Historical performance and scoring.

2

Context

Home advantage, consistency and shooting.

3

Profiles

Offense and historical player profiles.

4

Peak vs. recent

Longest streak vs. the 2013-2022 ranking.

A finding needs a route to the evidence.

1

English report and navigation

Overview, four analytical pages, Method & Evidence.

2

Technical review materials

SQL, source definitions, quality controls and reproduction steps.

Written findings describe the full reference dataset; exploratory filters do not rewrite those annotations.
